Although it is preferable to decide on one specific venue, it is possible to apply both to the Federal and one of the Provincial programs, however, they may be questions as to where the applicant actually intends to reside.