

The Quebec Program has two sets of independent point score grids – one for single applicants and one for couples. Due to this fact single applicants are not disadvantaged or handicapped in terms of their ability to attain the passing mark, as is the case in the Federal program.

The current pass mark under the Quebec program is 60 points out of possible 106 points, for single applicants and 68 points out of possible 123 points, for a couple.