The Quebec Immigration Officer will evaluate this factor by asking questions and by providing simple texts. The individual will then have to:

1) understand questions relating to various aspects of everyday life,

2) answer these questions with complete sentences using proper grammar and proper pronunciation, and

3) read a short text and comprehend the general sense of it.