

Yes, each application must be accompanied by the correct corresponding fees; otherwise the immigration authorities will not process the application.